Plane Down at Sea With 36 Persons Aboard

LISBON (AP) — A U.S. Navy search plane today reported picking up a distress signal off Cape St. Vincent where a Portuguese flying boat is missing with 36 persons on board, including 6 Americans.

Lt. George Beaver, pilot of a rescue plane, reported hearing the signal but said it was so faint and garbled that he could not make it out.

Beaver said the message was picked up on the international distress frequency about 180 miles east of Cape St. Vincent on the southern tip of Portugal.

Beaver said he sighted off in the area but long low sweeps over the tesseling waves disclosed nothing more—no sign of wreckage or life rafts.

This was the spot where the pilot of a twin-engine Portuguese flying boat radioed he was making an emergency landing in sea at 1:20 p.m. Sunday, an hour after leaving Lisbon.

The Portuguese director of civil aviation, Vitor Vares, said in a statement early today that "although the most contradictory information is being spread . . . all that is known is that . . . (the plane) announced it was going to make an emergency landing."

The plane is believed to have gone down about 180 miles west of Cape St. Vincent, at the southern end of Portugal. It was on a flight from Cabo Ruivo Air Terminal at Lisbon to Funchal, a fashionable international resort in the Madeira Islands off the northwest shoulder of Africa.

The six Americans:
Leon Laurs Kohlmann, New Orleans, president of a box manufacturing company, and his wife Jane; Louis Charles Slater, New Orleans, real estate salesman, and

Ark-La Plans to Locate a Plant at Emmet

SHREVEPORT — A buggy manufacturing plant soon will be established on Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. properties near Emmet, Ark. W. R. Stephens, board chairman and president, has announced.

Emmet is located near Hope.

The utility firm also announced the purchase of the buggy division of the historic Huntington, Ind., Wagon Works. Operations of the Huntington works will be transferred to the newly-created Huntington Buggy Division of Ark-La Air Conditioning Corp., a wholly-owned subsidiary of A.L.G. The factory will remain in Huntington, Stephens said.

The purchase included all brand names, patents, patterns, plates, diagrams, designs, dies, inventory and good will. Among the patterns were those for the legendary Conestoga and "prairie schooner" wagons.

One of the two remaining manufacturers of horse drawn vehicles in the United States, the Huntington Corp. will continue to produce dimension lumber and conventional farm wagons.

Stephens said that as part of the transaction Ark-La would continue to supply the buggy requirements of a mail order mercantile house for one year because that firm had included designs of two of the Huntington products in a current catalogue.

Stephens, who declined to reveal the purchase price of the buggy manufacturing division, said: "There is an ever-increasing demand for horse-drawn equipment in this country."

He said that certain religious groups use no other means of transportation. Other purchasers and users of horse-drawn equipment, are the motion picture and television industries.

"But the major demand," he said, "is coming from the horse fanciers."

Parents to Meet With Teachers

The Junior-Senior high school PTA announces, "Something New Has Been Added" to the schedule of meetings this year.

"Parents Night" is the name given the regular November meeting to be held at the school auditorium, November 11 at 7:30 p.m.

Purpose of this program is to acquaint the parents with the teachers of their children. It is found that teachers, many times, are able to understand a pupil better if they are acquainted with the child's parents.

Each student is to take his schedule home to the parents, the day before, as a guide for the parents at the meeting.

Following the devotional and a short business meeting in the school auditorium, each parent will follow their child's schedule, going to the classroom. There will be a roll call and a simple explanation of the course and what is expected of the student. This is to be followed by discussion. Each class will be about ten minutes in length.

A social hour will follow in the cafeteria. All parents of Junior-Senior high school students are urged to attend this important meeting.

Jordan King Attacked by Arab Fighters

By JOSEPH YNAN

AMMAN (AP) — Jordan's King Hussein told his people today MIG jetfighters blocked his plane over Syria on his vacation flight to Europe and chased him back to the border.

This could lead to serious repercussions in the Middle East. Until Hussein's experience this morning, old feuds between Jordan and President Nasser's United Arab Republic—of which Syria is a part—had seemed to be abating.

The monarch gave this explanation in a nationwide broadcast of his sudden return from what was to have been a three week vacation in Europe. He spoke in a serious tone, after a long Cabinet session. Jordan's Parliament was called to meet Tuesday.

Radio Cairo today called unfounded Hussein's charge that Syrian MIG fighters attacked his plane. The broadcast said the MIGs escorted Hussein's plane back to Jordan because it lacked permission to fly over Syria.

Hussein said two MIG fighters rose to challenge his twin-engine plane, en route to Cyprus.

The MIGs buzzed the royal craft and chased the plane back to the Jordanian frontier, making six passes, he said.

The King did not say the MIGs fired at his plane, but only that they made passes.

The King returned less than two hours after taking off for Switzerland.

Hussein said he has summoned a special parliamentary session for Tuesday.

Hussein said the jets, described as Soviet-made MIGs with U.A.R. markings, first attacked his plane 15 miles from Damascus. The King was piloting the twin-engine Jordanian air force plane.

He returned to Amman two hours after leaving and immediately summoned his Cabinet.

Nobel Award Goes to Father Pire

OSLO (AP) — The Rev. Dominique Georges Pire, a Dominican father who has devoted years to helping refugees from Eastern countries, won the Nobel Peace Prize for 1958 today.

Father Pire, 48, heads an organization he calls Europe of the Heart. He is a Belgian, born in Dinant, French-speaking city on the River Meuse.

The prize, worth $1,227, was awarded by the five-man Nobel Committee of the Norwegian Parliament. As usual, the committee gave no reason for its choice, nor did it say which other names had been proposed.

The announcement winds up the award of prizes for 1958, made from a fund left by Sweden's Alfred Nobel, inventor of dynamite.

The awards ceremony is to be held in Stockholm Dec. 12.

When the award was announced, Father Pire was at the Sarrilh Dominican convent of Huy, his city of residence.

His secretary, Miss I. Jolling, said: "Father Pire is doing a retreat. I can't disturb him now but I will have to let him know."

Father Pire visited Oslo Oct. 21. In a speech, he said he planned to build a new refugee village in Norway and name it "The Anne Frank Village." In September he founded the fifth refugee village in Europe, "The Albert Schweitzer Village."

Oslo's conservative newspaper Morgenbladet had suggested that Father Pire be given to him.

"Father Pire," it said, "has for more than 10 years fought to give the refugees a normal existence."

Father Pire entered the Dominican order in 1928 and studied philosophy at the Convent of La Seta. He then studied theology at the Angelicum University in Rome.

He was ordained a priest there in 1934, and made a doctor in theology in 1938.

After studying at Louvain University, Father Pire became a teacher of moral and religious philosophy at the Sarrilh Convent in Huy.

Court Rules for a Cemetery

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court today held that the Rockaway Cemetery Association is the lawful owner of a disputed strip of land along a 40-acre tract of land near Fort Smith.

The 20-foot wide strip was claimed by the heirs of the late Dr. C. P. Wilson.

Sebastian Chancery Court up held the claim of the Wilson heirs but his finding was overruled by the Supreme Court, which sent the case back with directions that a complaint of the heirs be dismissed.

Army Pushes Ahead With Moon Rocket

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The Army pushed ahead with plans for its first moon rocket launching today after the latest Air Force attempt fell far short of success.

Maj. Gen. John B. Medaris, Army missile chief, said so far the Army is on schedule. Some of the equipment needed to put a satellite around the moon already has been shipped to the Cape.

If all goes well, the Army probably will make the first of its two attempts about Dec. 5 when the planes of earth and moon again are in the best position.

The Air Force has had three tries and came closest on Oct. 11 when Pioneer II traveled an unprecedented 79,000 miles through space.

Air Force missilemen pored over flight performance data to determine what caused apparent failure in the third stage of the Pioneer II rocket early Saturday morning.

Instead of firing a satellite about 220,000 miles to the moon, the rocket fizzled at an altitude of 1,000 miles and disintegrated in the earth's atmosphere.

L.R. Board Ordered to Act Now on Steps to Carry Out Integration

Russia Wants to End Berlin Division

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev called today for an end to the four-power division of Berlin. He indicated the Soviets were ready to quit that city.

Radio Moscow quoted Khrushchev as telling a Polish-Soviet friendship meeting in Lenin Stadium: "The time has evidently come for the powers which signed the Potsdam agreement to give up the remnants of the occupation regime in Berlin and thus make it possible to create a normal atmosphere in the capital of the German Democratic Republic (Communist East Germany)."

Khrushchev announced that the Soviet Union, on its part, will hand over to East Germany those functions in Berlin which are still handled by Soviet organs.

The Soviet leader said that the 1945 Potsdam agreement had been violated by the United States, Britain and France on all points except the four-power status of Berlin.

He accused the West of using Berlin to carry on subversive activity against East Germany, against the Soviet Union and other Warsaw Pact countries.

He said the West German government, a member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, "is now treading a road dangerous to the cause of peace in Europe and fatal to West Germany itself."

The Soviet Union, he said, does not want another military conflict. A war, he declared, would be destructive to West Germany and would bring untold sufferings to the peoples of other countries.

Engineer Sees a Bear on Tracks

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A North Little Rock locomotive engineer reports he saw a bear on Missouri Pacific tracks two miles south of Judsonia Saturday night.

Engineer James T. Duke said his passenger train was traveling about 80 miles an hour when the headlight picked up a black bear shuffling up to the tracks.

Apparently the powerful beam stimulated the bear and it dashed across the rails.

Duke said if the train had been traveling a bit faster the bear would have been a goner.

A spokesman for the Arkansas Game & Fish Commission said the bear probably was one of several released in an area near Bald Knob about two months ago.

U. S. Population Figures Revised

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Census Bureau has raised by 10 to 15 million persons its estimate of the nation's population in 1975.

New estimates released Sunday put the total for that year at between 215,000,000 and 233,000,000 depending on future trends in births, deaths and immigration. The new figures replaced estimates made only two years ago that the total would run between 206,000,000 and 220,000,000.

The present total is about 173 million.

Reds Surprise, Call for End to A-Tests

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH

GENEVA (AP) — Russia today demanded sweeping nuclear disarmament and elimination of foreign military bases as its price for accepting an international warning system against surprise attacks.

Russian Deputy Foreign Minister, Vassili Kuntsev, opened an East-West conference on prevention of surprise attacks with a thinly veiled denunciation of "American foreign policy."

The appearance of Kuntsev, a political expert, as a delegate at the conference in itself was a surprise to the Western delegates who are scientists and military men.

The five Western nations represented expected to participate in a technical conference devoted to feeling out the capacity of the two sides for launching a surprise war, and to see if there is the technical means of preventing such surprise. They expected to engage in no political problems.

The five-week meeting, in which the Soviet bloc also is represented by five countries, could prove to be a fateful international card game, with each side gradually revealing a bit of its hand in the secret weapon category, especially missiles and bombers.

In his attack, Kuntsev said the policy of "positions of strength and the brink of war" was mainly responsible for the fear of surprise attacks.

This fear, he declared, could be eliminated only by complete nuclear disarmament, reduction of conventional arms stockpiles and military forces and abandonment of military bases on foreign territory.

The Western delegates are not empowered to conduct disarmament negotiations or even discuss a possible future treaty for the prevention of surprise attacks.

Their view is that such a treaty would be negotiated at a later political conference if the experts agree a warning system is technically feasible.

Speaking for the five Western nations, U.S. chief delegate William C. Foster avoided all reference to political matters. He urged the conference to stick to the purely technical consideration of modern weapons and the means of detecting planned surprise blows.

The United States, Britain, France, Italy and Canada represent the North Atlantic Treaty powers, and Russia, Poland and Czechoslovakia, Rumania and Albania the Soviet bloc.

NAACP Cites Offers to Five Students

ST. LOUIS (AP) — An Arkansas leader of the NAACP says five Negro children who attended Central High School in Little Rock during the last school year have turned down school offers "from all over the country."

Mrs. L. C. Bates, Arkansas chairman of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, told a St. Louis NAACP meeting last night the offers have been rejected because the Negro children do not recognize the importance of their fight.

"As tempting as the offers have been," Mrs. Bates said, "they know they cannot afford to accept before they are duly enrolled in Central High School."

"If they should leave Little Rock, then Gov. Orval E. Faubus would re-open the school."

Brother of Local Woman Succumbs

S. L. Black, a resident of Waldo died yesterday in a Texarkana hospital. He was a brother of Mrs. J. A. Black, who died last week.

Directs Action to Halt Disposal of Buildings

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A federal appeals court direct today that the Little Rock School Board take positive steps to accomplish integration of the Little Rock School District. The court did not spell out this shall be done.

Instead the three-judge division of the Eighth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals left this up to Arkansas District Judge John E. Miller and the school board itself.

The court assailed Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus and the Arkansas State Legislature for their efforts to use public school buildings for segregated schools through the Little Rock Private School Corporation.

The appellate court directed Judge Miller to issue an injunction against the use of the public school buildings for this purpose.

The court said the U.S. Supreme Court already has made clear that the constitutional rights of Negro children cannot be nullified by state executive, legislative or judicial officers "through evasive schemes for integration."

It was not clear what effect the appeals court opinion will have on a private senior high school operated in Little Rock in a building purchased from the University of Arkansas. This school is operated with funds from private contributions.

The Little Rock case has been in and out of the courts since before the riot in September 1957 which resulted in the use of federal troops to enforce federal district court orders for integration at Little Rock's Central High School.

The three judges who handed down the unanimous opinion today are M. C. Mathes of St. Louis and Harvey M. Johnson and Joseph W. Woodrough, both of Omaha, Neb.

The case was remanded to Judge Miller's court.

Judge Miller was directed to enjoin the School Board "from taking any further steps or action without the approval of the District Court to transfer possession, control or operation, whether directly or indirectly, of any of the senior high schools or any other property" for operation of segregated schools.

At Pine Bluff, NAACP Atty. Wiley A. Branton told a reporter he wanted to study news dispatches on the decision before commenting.

Newsmen at Fort Smith learned Judge Miller left this morning for a vacation. His exact destination was not available but it was conjectured he might be going to South Carolina.

All Around Town

By The Star Staff

It was the best special train crowd we've ever had," was the opinion of the train crew which took Hope fans to Conway last Friday and that just about sums it up according to officers who went along. They were all wonderful and everybody had a good time. It was the way one officer put it.

And the folks at Conway treated everyone royally. Cars were waiting to transport fans to and from the ball game. In fact, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Walker got into one of the waiting Conway cars only to discover they were riding with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Walker of Conway.

It was a fine trip and naturally, winning the football game made it better. The train arrived back in Hope about 2:15 a.m. and the nearly 700 fans went home tired but happy.

It was a very pleasant trip that everyone will remember for years. Thanks in a small part to the wonderful welcome at Conway. Actually many Hope fans met at Conway, spent the night at Little Rock and went to the Arkansas-Hardin Simmons game Saturday afternoon.

Hope Schools will open on schedule Tuesday after a gift day Monday to students for their fine action during Halloween.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Riley and daughter, Paula, attended the first Chinichilla Claiming Field Day at Ft. Worth Saturday. The Rileys entered five Chinichillas and won four ribbons. One animal won first place in color class male entry and won the Reserve Champion ribbon in the finals.

The others won a second and a fifth place ribbons. Some 150 animals were entered in the show. Incidentally Paula modeled a Chinichilla stole made from the furs of the Riley animal.

The first deer was reported in by a fan today according to the City Police checking station. It was killed by W. M. Ramsey. The second was killed by Paul Coulter.

The last word in new cars still comes from the back seat.

Star-Exchanging friends. Nice one this time.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I am very much in love with a boy who doesn't even know I exist. I've been sending him greeting cards on his birthday and on holidays, but never bother to sign my name. Should I continue?—Carolyn

Dear Dorothy Dix: I have been going with Dick for three months and we're terribly in love. However, he is now going with a woman who gives him both sex and money. He says he only goes with her because he's in debt. He doesn't take me out very often because he says he is afraid to. I'm making a chaste threat. If he keeps it, he will be the loser. Study hard, work hard, and determine to give your children, when you have them, the benefit of a harmonious, united home.

Irish Players Take Part in Documentary

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Notre Dame's football "subway alumni" and football fans bintennial were served up a series of thrills and laughs Sunday when "The Twentieth Century" TV show presented a documentary on Notre Dame.

Composed of film clips of the great gridiron mentor, and narrated segments of Irish teams in action, the program rekindled many a memory for football buffs.

"There, cheer for Old Notre Dame," the film starts out, and moves quickly into shots of the great Rockne's practice sessions.

Devoted To Humor
Unlike the Pat O'Brien portrayals of the famed coach, this half-hour show is devoted to Rock's humor and philosophy on college football, interspersed with pulsing shots from spectacular games.

During the practice workout Rockne can be heard raising Cain with his quarterback, Frank Leahy, when he goofed an assignment.

Though he was killed in a 1931 plane crash, Rockne's humor was recorded on thousands of feet of film. During a battle over his controversial backfield shift, he said:

"If they abolish the shift, I'll change my kind of play from the intelligent, smart, slim-aneked player like the 'Four Horsemen' and I'll go in for the cow-headed hippopotamus fatty type that...so many schools use now. And so, when you see a football picture of a Notre Dame team about four years from now, you'll notice the bovine expressions and ox-knuckle ankles predomination."

"And the fellow with the muslinie doing his best to exude an aroma of cunning—why, that'll be me."

Oldtimers Get Preview
At a preview of the half-hour show, CBS-TV invited 16 Notre Dame old-timers to see themselves in action. Such Irish greats as Clipper Smith, George Tranton, Curly Lambeau and Luke Ward were on hand to swap experiences with teammates they hadn't seen for 30 years.

Their faces were wreathed in smiles as they listened to Rockne's old dressing room pep talks, and they howled happily when the coach barked:

"Hey! I guess that fellow didn't know who you were, All-Indiana!"

Shots of the Four Horsemen in action ended a stir among the old-timers when it was recalled the famed backfield averaged only 157 pounds—lighter than today's average high school team.

Rockne's concern for his players' future was brought out, too. In one sequence, he asks: "After you graduate from school, Tommy, are you going to be a football coach, a bond salesman or are you going to work?"

Porkers May Give SMU Tough Time Saturday

By Harold V. Ratliff
Associated Press Sports Writer

Texas Christian plays embittered Texas and Southern Methodist meets resurgent Arkansas Saturday in games likely to give an unexpected twist to the southwest conference race.

Two of the three leaders now are considered in grave danger in these battles. Rice, the other one, isn't expected to encounter much trouble as it hosts slumping Texas A&M.

The conference race rolls into the stretch with Rice and Texas Christian tied for the lead with 3-0 records and Southern Methodist still in the race with 2-1.

Defeat would eliminate SMU and it would seriously fracture Texas Christian's chances.

SMU clung to a chance at the title last week when it overpowered Texas A&M 33-0 in a great offensive display.

Rice and Texas Christian were playing interconference games. Rice gained glory although it lost to Army 14-7. Texas Christian toyed with Marquette and posted a 36-6 triumph.

Texas was clouting Baylor 20-15 in a conference game that meant nothing.

Arkansas gave Southern Methodist cause for worry as it lashed Hardin-Simmons 60-15—the Razorbacks' second victory in a row after losing the first six. The Methodistists must face Arkansas in its Ozark hills Saturday.

Texas Christian is quite wary of Texas, too. The Frogs would like to get past the Longhorns so they can face Rice in the big battle next week on even terms. Texas is the toughest foe the Frogs have yet faced in the conference.

Rice should anticipate a minimum of trouble with Texas A&M unless the Owls are looking ahead to Texas Christian to much. The Aggies were like putty in SMU's hands and Rice best Southern Methodist by a touchdown.

Baylor is idle this week while Texas Tech, overjoyed at finally winning one—a 23-6 decision over Arizona last week goes to Tulsa.

Yerger Tigers Take 61-6 Licking

The Yerger Tigers took one of the worst lickings of the season Saturday night, a 61-6 shellacking at the hands of Little Rock.

Little Rock started rolling from the start and had a 27-0 halftime lead. By the end of the third period it was 41-0. The Tigers managed to get over a tally in the final quarter.

Even in defeat the Tigers gained 250 yards rushing, completed five of 13 passes and made eight first downs. Little Rock smashed to 500 on the ground and completed the only pass they tried.

Changes in Statistics in the SWC

DALLAS (AP)—There were a couple of quick changes in Southwest Conference football statistics last week when Southern Methodist, triggered by Don Meredith, had its greatest offensive day, and Baylor completed 19 passes for a tremendous 180 yards.

Southern Methodist, with Meredith back in a starting role after being out of action for most of four games because of an injury, rolled up 500 yards in total offense against Texas A&M and brought its average per game to 330.1 yards, tops in the league. This is nine yards better than the displaced leader, Texas Christian.

Meredith contributed 198 yards, which improved his position in the total offense individual race, but he was overshadowed by the mighty Humphrey passing exhibition in a losing cause against Texas. Humphrey took over the conference lead in completions with 72 out of 131 throws.

His great yardage, however, was still short of the lead for distance. Charley Misteard of Texas A&M, who did nothing against SMU and had to retire early because of an injury, still leads in yardage by 29 over Humphrey.

Misteard also held his lead in total offense, showing 1,004 yards on 197 plays compared to 884 on the part of Humphrey, and 639 on 93 by Meredith.

Larry Christopher of Southern Methodist went into first place in punting with an average of 41.7 on 16 punts, replacing Pat Bailey of Rice, who has 400 on 22.

Giants Blast Colts, League in a Scramble

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Blame it on the New York Giants. They're solely responsible for the scrambled title races in the National Football League.

Baltimore and Cleveland were streaking uncontested toward division crowns until the Giants changed the championship picture.

They said it couldn't be done. But Sunday the Giants notched their second consecutive victory over a previously undefeated team. This time Baltimore's high-voltage Colts felt the sting, as Charlie Conerly, the Giants major weapon, engineered a 24-2 upset.

The previous week New York ended Cleveland's unbeaten string with a 21-17 triumph.

New York's twin victories earned them a tie for first place in the Eastern Conference with Cleveland. The Browns were thumped 30-10 by Detroit. The leaders have 5-2 records.

The Colts' loss brought new hope in the Western Conference race to the second-place Chicago Bears. 24-10 conquerors of Green Bay, Baltimore, now 6-1, holds a one game lead over the runner-up Bears, 5-2.

In other games before a probable record turnout of 242,734 fans, Los Angeles took undisputed possession of third place in the western sector with a 56-7 drubbing of San Francisco. Eddie LeBaron passed for five touchdowns as Washington outscored Chicago's Cardinals 45-31, and Bobby Layne pitched four TDs as Pittsburgh defeated Philadelphia 31-24.

The largest crowd to watch a professional football game in New York—71,163—cheered as the Giants won it on Pat Summerall's 28-yard field goal with only 2 minutes 20 seconds remaining.

The Giants trailed 14-7 at halftime, but Conerly led the Giants on a 58-yard march culminated by a 25-yard touchdown toss to Kyle Rote to tie it. Frank Gifford's 13-yard end sweep put the Giants ahead 21-14. But George Shaw, replacement for the injured Johnny Unitas completed his second touchdown strike to Lenny Moore and again knotted the score. Then Summerall put the finishing touches on the upset.

GOP Chairman Says Party Will Revive

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican state chairmen say unanimously their party will revive from the shattering impact of last week's election losses and make a strong comeback in 1960.

But their ideas vary widely on how to rebuild the GOP ranks decimated by severe setbacks in Senate and House contests.

An Associated Press canvass of 38 GOP state chairmen disclosed that some of them, mostly in the South, want their party to turn back to the conservative policies of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio.

Others want to revitalize the Republican organization, and its candidates, modernize the party's appeal to the average voter.

Still others are confident that the Democrats, with their over-size congressional margins, will trip over their own feet and more or less let the Republicans back in by default.

Vice President Nixon, who is expected to command efforts to revitalize the party, was picked by 20 chairmen in varying degrees of firmness as the leading candidate now for the 1960 GOP presidential nomination.

Suggestions for modernizing the party's setup came from two chairmen in states where the Republicans were able to turn the Democratic tide and elect GOP governors.

Rhode Island Chairman William T. Bromberg said the Republicans have "not to strengthen everyday relations with people." In his state, Christopher D. Sosa ousted Democratic Gov. Dennis J. Roberts as an aftermath of a 1956 ballot count controversy.

James F. Short of Oregon said the Republicans "have some adjustments to make." In his state Republican Mark Hatfield won the governorship while shunning the party label and publicly opposing the Eisenhower administration on its power policies.

There was a feeling among some chairmen that the Republicans need to turn back to more conservative policies. Some of them called for a strong fight against labor leaders, such as that which Sen. Barry Goldwater conducted in winning re-election in Arizona.

N. Bryant James, Louisiana chairman, suggested that the Republicans go back to what he called "the old Taft school of thought." South Carolina's Greg Shover said the GOP can win if the conservatives roll up their sleeves and go to work.

In Indiana, where the Republicans took one of their worst beatings, State Chairman Robert W. Matthews said the GOP can count on the Democrats making trouble for themselves.

The liberals will be in control

BIG BUSINESS—More than 4.3 million business firms were in operation in the United States in 1957. This is an increase of 670,000 over the number at the end of 1940, reports the U.S. Department of Commerce. In 1957, nearly 44 out of every 100 concerns were engaged in retail trade. Proportional sizes of other major business divisions are shown in Newschart above.

A GOOD YEAR—The nation's agriculture exports in fiscal 1958 (ended June 30), although down 15 per cent from the all-time high set in 1957, were still the third highest on record—slightly over four billion dollars. Value of the major commodity groups, as reported by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, are shown on Newschart above. The figures include relief and charity shipments by private agencies.

WE'RE BIG AND GETTING BIGGER—The U.S. population mark has whistled upward at a spectacular rate to pass the 175 million mark, 17 million more than were around when President Eisenhower was inaugurated in 1953, almost 170 million more than the post-colonial states boasted in 1800 when Napoleon Bonaparte was France's first consul and reaching for an emperor's crown. Thirty years later saw the first Mormon Church organized by Joseph Smith in Fayette, Seneca County, N.Y., and we then numbered over 12 million. In 1860 the Civil War clouds were gathering as South Carolina seceded from the Union which embraced over 31 million. Ellis Island opened in New York as an immigration depot in 1890, when the population was almost 63 million, to abet the great flood of foreigners which helped push the figure to over 105 million in 1920, the year the League of Nations began in Geneva, Switzerland. More than 150 million of us got the news in 1950 that Brink's, Inc., had been robbed of $7,775,395.12. And this year the counter clicked on while the Pioneer moon rocket sped up and up and up—symbolic, perhaps, of America's population of the future.

DIRTY, BUT HAPPY—More American homes, at latest count, have television sets than have bathtubs. This is not meant to arouse doubts about the cleanliness of the citizenry, but merely points up the tremendous growth of the 12-year-old TV industry. According to Television Factbook, 42.4 million homes, or 84 per cent of the total, have one or more TV sets. This figure is exceeded only by the number of home radios.

Chapter XIX

And then as the thoughts sank lower and lower, she heard Aunt Millicent's voice close to her ear — loud, anxious, worried.

Katherine managed a gasp, but that was all.

"Here, let me help you up," she bent over, looking massive as an elephant from Katherine's perspective, and began hauling her up, pulling her by the shoulders. "Are you hurt?"

"I can't tell."

"I don't know how you jumped that way. You must have pushed yourself completely out over me. You were already past before I could catch you."

Katherine said, "I didn't push. It cost her dearly to speak. Aunt Millicent had rolled her around onto her back, and gotten her up now into a sitting position. "Can you stand up?"

"No."

"You'll be all right. You don't have any broken bones."

She began hauling her up again, and Katherine allowed herself to be hauled. She was thinking: I didn't push myself, I just let go and slid off the roof. Aunt Millicent must have stepped back or done something. She didn't even try to catch me as I fell.

Aunt Millicent kept an arm around her waist, supporting her, bracing her up, and when they tried to take a step they almost fell together.

"My feet hurt."

"Come on. You'll be better when we get you dried off. You'd better take a bath too — but get yourself dry first." She started on into the living room as Katherine stood up, holding her soggy shoes and socks in her hands; and then, apparently noticing a peculiarity for the first time, she said, "Where are your glasses?"

"I broke them."

"How did you do that?"

"They just fell off my nose."

"Where?"

"In the . . . on the roof."

"Well? Where are they now? Don't you have them?"

"No — they fell down . . . down here . . . I couldn't see where. I can't see very much without them."

Aunt Millicent turned back to the windows. She stuck her head out into the rain again, turning it slowly back and forth like a searchlight. Then she said, "They're not out there now."

She led the way across the living room, toward the hall. Katherine, trailing painfully behind her, squinted around the room: all the lights were on; empty coffee cups stood on the tables; the cushion in the chair by the window was flattened, but Paul was not there.

Aunt Millicent had gone on in to her bedroom, and Katherine the wet dress in onto the floor of her closet, and then went over to the bed and began pulling the spread down to the foot.

She said, "Now come over here and lie down."

Katherine lay down on her back and felt her head sink gently, so softly into the jacket spread over the pillow. It seemed to her to be incredibly luxurious, comfortable beyond anything she had ever dreamed of. She floated on a wave of pure happy sensation, feeling the mattress give under her legs and back, feeling everything dry and warm around her.

Aunt Millicent had gone into the bathroom to get the towel. Katherine closed her eyes for a moment.

And just then she heard Aunt Millicent's voice, quite close to her, saying softly, "Are you asleep, darling?"

"No." She thought to herself. It's taken her a long time to get a towel. And then she thought: I ought to open my eyes and sit up. She made the effort; she opened her eyes and looked around her. Aunt Millicent was standing at one side of the bed, and Paul was standing at the other.

Link Letter in Fine Form at Arizona Fair

By BOB THOMAS
AP Motion Picture Writer

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Art Linkletter was in fine form before 3,500 citizens at the Arizona State Fair.

Breaching through his daily houseparty TV show, he exchanged quips with the oldest old maid in the audience, galloped a horse down the race track, chatted about the Wild West with a 92-year-oldster atop a stage coach, watched three housewives try to gift-wrap Christmas hams (dive) and gifted a pair of newlyweds with a door prize (a door).

But the biggest response from the Phoenixians came at the end of the show when Art sat down for a quiet conversation with four 6-year-olds.

It's possible that after all the pie-throwings are forgotten, Linkletter will be remembered for his conversations with kids. After a year, his book, "Kids Say the Darndest Things," refuses to budge from the best-seller list. Besides his daily stint on the Houseparty show, clips from past programs are now being syndicated as "Linkletter and the Kids."

A sample of the Phoenix dialogue:

Art: Who's the boss in your family?

Girl: My mother.

Art: Why is that?

Girl: She's older.

How does Linkletter manage to evoke choice comments from the youngsters? It's not a matter of chance.

"The secret of our success is in planning," the emcee explained.

"Our teacher, Dorothea Fitzgerald, works with the schools in lining up the children. The important thing is not to get the smartest ones, but the kids who are liable to say something bright and provocative."

"On the day of the show, way to the studio. Shortly before I go on the air," she hands me outlines of what the kids can talk about. I study them a few seconds and I'm ready for the show."

"It's easy to get good results if you know your subjects. That's why I feel it was ridiculous to fix those quiz shows. If you know your contestants' fields of knowledge, you can easily plan questions to make them win or lose."

In the small towns in Greece girls dance with a handkerchief in their hands. They do not want to touch the hand of a man, unless he is the man she is going to wed.

8 Fatalities in Arkansas on Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Eight persons died violently in Arkansas over the weekend, raising the state's death toll to 22 for the week which ended last midnight.

The traffic death toll for the seven days totaled 14, with six counted over the weekend. The week's toll also included two persons killed by fire, two who died in separate logging accidents, a fatal industrial mishap, a drowning and a man who died of a head blow.

State police reported that a transport truck plowed into the rear of an automobile yesterday on U.S. Highway 70, one and a half miles north of Hughes. A Negro man and woman were killed.

They were Tracy Forrester, 23, and Chris Estella Moore, 29, both of Hughes. The driver of the truck and the driver of the car, in which the two victims were riding, apparently were not injured.

Two cars collided near Earle Saturday, killing Julius Cleve and James Smith, both 30-year-old Earle Negroes.

Officers said a car driven by Carl E. Banks of Crawfordville crashed into Smith's auto, which was stopped on U.S. Highway 64 one mile east of Earle. Banks was hospitalized at West Memphis.

A highway accident two miles north of Lehi Saturday killed Martin B. Baker, 39, of Memphis.

State police said Baker's station wagon struck the rear of a cotton picker, operated by Busley Smith of Hughes. As the machine was turning left off State Highway 147, Smith was not hurt.

Four miles south of Hot Springs, Leslie Collum, 22, died when his pickup truck plunged through a State Highway 7 guard cable and into Lake Hamilton.

Collum's brother-in-law, Donald Crandall, 28, of Hot Springs, was thrown out of the truck but he managed to cling to the wreckage until a passerby pulled him from the lake. Crandall suffered only minor injuries.

A fishing boat overturned in White River near DeValls Bluff yesterday, drowning Eugene Allen, 37, of Memphis.

Mrs. Allen and Jimmy Thrash, 13, were in the boat but swam to shore when the boat capsized. Both were wearing lifejackets. Allen was not injured.

Lapointe authorities were continuing their investigation into the death of M. M. (Lum) Murchison, 73, whose body was found Saturday near the Rivervale Cafe he owned.

Police Chief G. E. Guin said an autopsy showed that Murchison died from a blow on the head. A coroner's jury returned an open verdict in the case.

The chief said three of six persons who were picked up for questioning have been released.

Officer Shot to Death at a Roadblock

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — A rain of bullets cut down a city patrolman early Sunday at a roadblock where he and another officer had halted a car of suspected robbers.

Officer Raymond McMaster, 30, was struck four times. He died a short time later at Boulder Community Hospital.

Sheriff Arthur T. Everson said Revilo Robert Sides, 22, of Denver, was arrested here Sunday afternoon. He was questioned for more than two hours, then jailed without charge. Everson said officers here and in Denver are seeking Sides' brother.

McMaster and Patrolman Howard Grothman halted the car north of this university city within an hour of a $1,500 armed robbery at a roadside cafe at Lyons, 16 miles north of here.

The officers first believed only one man was in the car. The driver emerged and stood mute. McMaster circled the car and was shot down by a gunman who had left the car unseen on the passenger's side.

The patrolman sprawled on the ground while the bandits fired at him. When another police cruiser approached, McMaster's killers jumped in the bandits' car and escaped. The original driver fled on foot across a field.

McMaster and Grothman fired nine shots.

The getaway car was found abandoned in North Boulder. There were blood stains in the back seat.

L. R. Board May Resign, Report Says

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A member of the Little Rock School Board admitted today that he and other members are considering a mass resignation.

The member, who asked not to be identified, said he did not know what effect the Eighth U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals ruling of today would have on a decision for resignation.

In its decision, the appellate court directed Federal Judge John E. Miller of Fort Smith to take positive steps to accomplish integration at Little Rock but did not spell out how this was done.

A meeting of the Little Rock School Board is tentatively scheduled for later today. Some decision on a mass resignation might come at the meeting.

A source close to the school board told the Arkansas Democrat that if such a resignation is decided on, the board probably will buy up the remaining 19 months of Supt. Virgil Blossom's contract. In effect this would relieve Blossom of his duties and free him for a job elsewhere.

The Arkansas Gazette reported earlier that five of the six members of the school board met yesterday to discuss the possibility of resigning en masse.

"We met at the home of one of the members to discuss a good many things," said Wayne Upton, board president. But he declined to elaborate.

The absent member, the Gazette said, was Dr. Dale Alford, the outspoken segregationist who last week was elected to Congress in a write-in campaign against Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark.).

Alford often has been at odds with the majority decisions of the board.

Those who reportedly attended an autopsy showed that Murchison died from a blow on the head. A coroner's jury returned an open verdict in the case.

The chief said three of six persons who were picked up for questioning have been released.

Father of Sen. McClellan Ill

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—Isaac S. McClellan, 87-year-old father of Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.), was in grave condition at a Pine Bluff hospital today following a stroke.

The senator was scheduled to return to Washington today but his brother, Pine Bluff Postmaster Joe McClellan, said he would await the outcome of their father's condition.

The elder McClellan suffered a heart attack Friday and the stroke followed, Joe McClellan said.

Isaac McClellan is a retired attorney. He lives at Sheridan, Ark.

been subjected to criticism from Gov. Orval E. Faubus and segregationist groups. Recall petitions to remove all but Dr. Alford were circulated by the pro-segregation Mothers League of Central High but never filed.

The only announced candidate for the School Board in the Dec. 8 school election is James T. Karam, a Little Rock clothier.

Neither Supt. Blossom or Dr. Alford would comment on yesterday's meeting.
